

Abstract

A Novel Smooth Backed Pierced Earring

5 The present invention is an earring for a pierced ear comprising a shaft, said shaft being mounted on a base; a connector having a cavity with means for engaging said shaft and an adapter on the obverse; and a cap having a means for affixing to said adapter on one side and a 10 decorative aspect of the earring attached on the obverse.